Sign Dixon-Yates Power Contract

Changed To Hold Down Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 500 million dollar Dixon-Yates power contract, center of a boiling political row, was signed Thursday with a last minute change to hold down profits.

But the bitter controversy over the deal continued. It still is uncertain when the contract actually will go into effect and when construction can start on a big new private power plant across the Mississippi River from Memphis, Tenn. Many Democrats in Congress still hope to torpedo the whole idea.

The contract is between the Atomic Energy Commission and the Mississippi Valley Generating Co., which is sponsored by E. H. Dixon's Middle South Utilities, Inc., and E. A. Yates' Southern Co.

It calls for building a 107 million dollar power generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power for the Tennessee Valley Authority in replacement of energy TVA now provides for atomic plants.

Backers say the contract, which President Eisenhower directed the AEC to negotiate, is an efficient, economical way of assuring that TVA's future needs for power for its customers will be met. Its enemies contend the contract is a first step toward destroying TVA by means of a private utility company they say will take no financial risks under the contract.

Both the government and Dixon-Yates agreed on an eleven-hour change in the contract that will put a $600,000 a year ceiling on Dixon-Yates earnings.

Dixon-Yates said in a joint statement that they offered to build the plant on suggestion of the President that a private utility take over part of TVA power commitments to AEC, that they didn't take the initiative, and that "the possible earnings are too small to make attractive as a usual business venture."

3,000 Supporters Of McCarthy Meet, Sen. Welker Speaks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly three thousand supporters of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) gave him a roaring vote of support Thursday night at a Constitution Hall rally.

Marching groups waved aloft such signs as "You Can't Hide Truth With Censure" and "Government By Gag Has Happened Here."

The principal speaker, Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) denounced the Senate move to censure McCarthy as "dirty work" and "foul play," and predicted that if the censure resolution now before the Senate passes, a strong campaign will be launched to admit Communist China to the United Nations.

Constitution Hall, owned by the Daughters of the American Revolution, seats 3,844.

It was a noisy, political type of rally, with teen-agers joining gray-haired elders in processions around the hall.

The meeting was arranged by Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, director of the American Jewish League Against Communism. Delegations of McCarthy backers from New York, Boston and other cities began arriving early Thursday.

The rally originally was billed as a "March on Washington" but Schultz said the designation was abandoned "because it gave some people the idea of a crowd of screaming Red-baiters."

Welker, one of McCarthy's chief backers in the two-day-old censure debate, lauded the Wisconsin senator as "one of the greatest living champions of human liberty, and one of the greatest living foes of Communist slavery."

"McCarthy," he said, "brought the country to its senses with his campaign to expose the dangers which we faced. His reward for that today is the offered motion of censure."

Welker said the American people "recognize foul play when they see it, and they see it now in this tawdry assault... what the American people have been looking at is dirty work."

The McCarthy fans came by train, bus and automobile for Thursday night's demonstration, but first they converged on Capitol Hill.

Schuman Plan Chief, Monnet Resigns

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—Jean Monnet announced Thursday he is resigning as top executive of the European Coal and Steel Community—the Schuman Plan. He said he wanted "entire freedom of action and speech for the realization of European unity."

Monnet, 66, a leading French expert on international business and finance for more than a generation, fathered the community which Europeanized the coal and steel industries of six nations. His resignation as president of its high authority was a surprise. It takes effect next Feb. 10, when a new president and vice president will be elected.

Monnet has been president since the community went into business last year and undoubtedly could have been elected for another two years. He was known to have been deeply disappointed by French rejection of the European Defense Community plan for a unified West European army. The supranational features of EDC, carefully excluded from the substitute London and Paris agreements, appealed strongly to Monnet's philosophy. Seeking a United States of Europe, he has long felt that national rivalries, economic and political barriers weaken the Continent.

The treaty which set up the Schuman Plan strictly limits the work of high authority members, to the coal-steel community's business. It says they "may not exercise any business or professional activities, paid or unpaid." These restrictions apparently led Monnet to decide he should step down from the $15,000 a year presidency.

The community brought under one international supervisory body the coal and steel operations of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Like his youngest brother, Milton S. Eisenhower, who spoke first, the President paid tribute to the American way of life and the chance it gives individuals to develop their native talents — as the Eisenhower boys did.

He also paid tribute to the armed forces in the Veterans Day speech.

Speaking in the warm November sun, the President was flanked by members of his family who came here for a brief reunion in their old home town.

Beside him on the platform were the First Lady; his son, Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife; his brother, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eisenhower; and Mrs. Roy Eisenhower, widow of another brother.

From here the President flew to Toledo, Ohio and two days of duck hunting with Treasury Secretary Humphrey.

The President visited the graves of his mother and father in Abilene Cemetery Thursday morning and talked quietly there for a few minutes with his brothers.

Murder Unlikely In Death From Darning Needle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police virtually ruled out murder Thursday in the mysterious death of Peter Pivaro, who died with a darning needle in his heart.

Homicide officers said an inquest probably will be held next Monday or Tuesday.

The possibility of murder was checked off when investigators learned a second puncture in Pivaro's chest was made by a doctor shortly before the man died early Wednesday in a hospital.

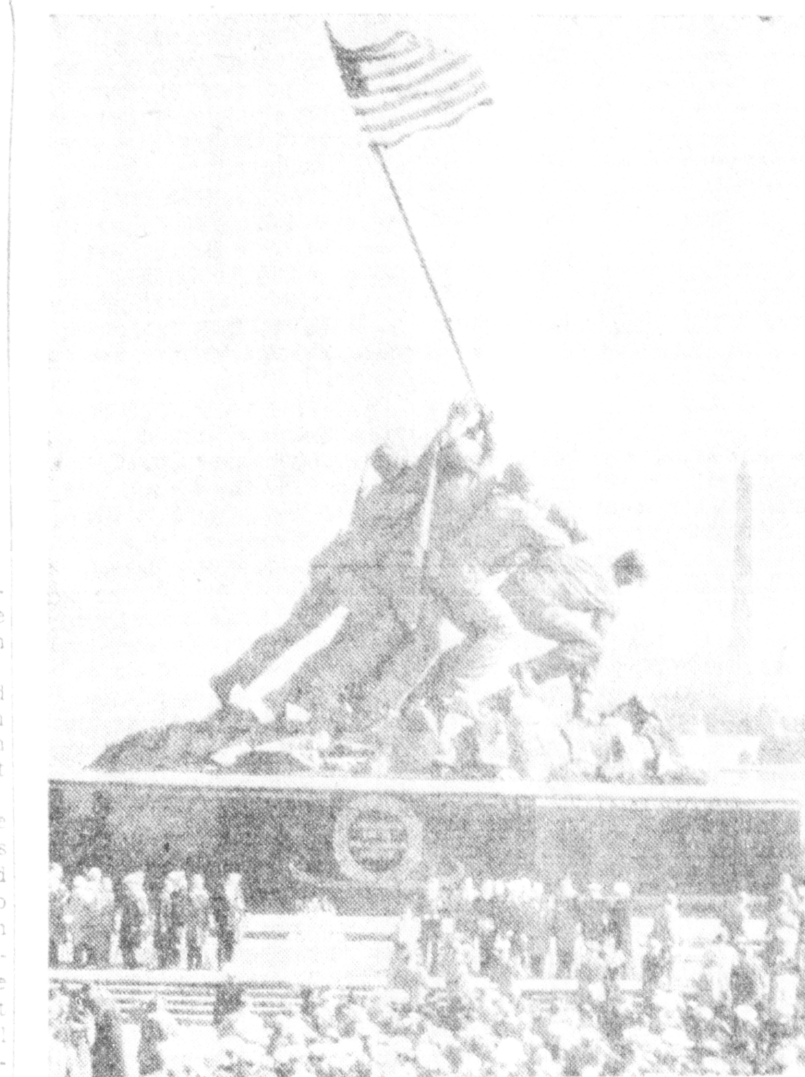

"We still have some work to do before the investigation is closed," Detective Sgt. R. L. Clodio said. "But there is absolutely no indication that Pivaro had any enemies or was involved in a fight. The way it stands now, it was probably an accident or a suicide."

Pivaro, 35, died 26 hours after being admitted to a hospital for an apparent heart ailment. Shortly before he died X-rays showed a 2½-inch needle had penetrated his heart between the fourth and fifth ribs. Another puncture between the seventh and eighth ribs was made by a physician checking for fluids in Pivaro's chest.

9 PER CENT MORE HOGS FOR MARKET

CHICAGO (AP)—Farmers in Iowa and northern Illinois will market approximately 9 per cent more hogs in the next eight months than in the like period a year ago, a survey issued by Iowa State College said Thursday.

Largest marketings are expected in November and December and from about the first of March through June, as compared with the same months a year previous. January and February hog sales will be only slightly ahead of the corresponding months a year ago. The survey was financed by the Chicago Stock Yards.

Veterans Day Talks Stress World Peace, Great, Glorious U.S.A.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower looked forward Thursday, on the nation's first observance of Veterans Day, to the continuation of "a great and glorious America."

Other speakers added the thought, expressed also by Eisenhower on previous occasions, that America's future in this age of A-bombs and H-bombs will be in peril unless the people maintain a strong and vigilant guard.

For 35 years, Nov. 11 has been celebrated as Armistice Day, commemorating the end of the first World War. But the United States has gone to war twice more and Congress decided this year to change the name of the holiday and to have it honor veterans of all wars.

Eisenhower was in his hometown of Abilene, Kan., Thursday where he dedicated the Eisenhower Memorial Museum "to the future citizens of a great and glorious America."

In the principal address at Abilene, President Milton S. Eisenhower of Pennsylvania State University, the President's youngest brother, touched on the grim change that came to America with development of weapons of mass destruction. He said:

"With the completeness and awesomeness of modern thermodynamic action, the safe little world my brothers and I knew here as youngsters burst and vanished in the clouds of global war, economic interdependence and ideological strife."

Much the same solemn note was sounded at Arlington National Cemetery near Washington, where Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott spoke at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. He said:

"The weapons which claimed brave young men who lie here were formidable enough. And yet they were puny compared with the weapons that human beings can bring to bear against each other in this nuclear age. These are weapons of great destruction."

Talbott said efforts to keep these weapons from being used can succeed only by seeking the help of God.

At Fort Worth, Tex., Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said the nation's security depends on a trained, organized military reserve. "Ready to go—before war comes."

Stevens said this is true because the nature of atomic war makes it unlikely that the United States "will ever again have the time to create a great army from scratch after war breaks out."

The first decennial census in the United States was taken in 1790.

Soviet Spurs U.S. Scientists' Work On Space Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mounting reports of a high priority Russian program directed at creation of a scientifically and militarily valuable space satellite is sharpening attention of American researchers in a similar study.

The United States has been considering, at least since 1947, the theories and possibilities of launching a man-made satellite to follow an orbit several hundred miles above the earth.

But government experts in a position to know indicate this semi-latent project is now being considered in new light. Increasing reports of Russian efforts apparently are responsible.

Dr. Walter Gerlach, deputy chairman of West Germany's Space Research Society, said this week that the first nation to get

Dulles Urges Action To Offset Aggressive Intent Of Reds In Asia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles disclosed Thursday he is trying to get the Southeast Asia defense treaty in action against Communist subversion even before its ratification by the Senate.

In testimony in which he ticked off evidences of "aggressive intent" by a peace-talking Communist China, Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee:

"I think we should quickly put our heads together."

He meant, he said, that the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines—all signers of the pact—should assemble representatives to map ways and means of blocking Red infiltration in the Pacific.

He said he hoped such a meeting of the Manila Pact Council could take place in a few weeks. The Senate is not expected to act on the treaty until its regular session opening in January.

The treaty commits the signers to consult on ways "to meet the common danger" in case the treaty area is threatened by attack or subversion.

The agreement was signed Sept. 8 at Manila.

In his denunciation of Red China, Dulles ticked off places and situations he said showed the Peking regime's "aggressive intent which belies its protestations of a desire for peace."

Among these he listed:

1. Existence of a "free Thai" movement inside China across the border from Thailand.

2. Doubling of Communist forces in Northern Viet Nam since the Geneva conference stopped the fighting there.

3. Domination by Communists of two provinces in northern Laos.

4. Vigorous efforts to communicate Chinese in Malaya.

5. Maintenance in Yunnan Province in southern China, obviously safe from any attack of a large armed force of Red Chinese.

Move To Free Roger Touhy Heads For Supreme Court

CHICAGO (AP)—The legal move to free Roger (The Terrible) Touhy from prison headed for the U.S. Supreme Court Thursday.

His attorney, Robert B. Johnston, said he had filed an appeal and a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Supreme Court.

Touhy, 56-year-old survivor of prohibition era strife, is serving terms adding up to 298 years in the Stateville Penitentiary. The penalties were for the 1933 kidnaping of John (Jake) Barber, Factor and for breaking out of the penitentiary in 1942.

Judge John P. Barnes of the U.S. District Court at Chicago freed Touhy Aug. 9. He held that the kidnaping was a hoax and the Illinois law used in prosecuting him for the breakout was unconstitutional.

But on Aug. 10 the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago ordered Touhy back to Stateville pending a review of the decision which freed him.

TO SELL MARILYN SHEPPARD'S CAR

CLEVELAND (AP)—The black Lincoln Continental automobile that Marilyn Sheppard used to drive is for sale.

Two car dealers looked the auto over Thursday.

"I'm surprised the way the motor turned over," said Dr. Richard Sheppard, a brother of the accused.

Sheppard, Samuel, "It hasn't been run since the Fourth."

That was the day in July Mrs. Sheppard was murdered.

Wonders 'Who' Is On Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) raked the Watkins committee with a series of challenges Thursday and drew from its chairman, Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), the exasperated retort:

"I wonder sometimes if I'm on trial."

Watkins, 67, declared McCarthy, recommended for censure on two counts by the Watkins committee, always manages to turn his own trials into trials of somebody else.

This exchange came near the end of the second day of Senate debate on the censure charges—a day that possibly opened a way for McCarthy to get off the hook on at least one of them if he chooses.

Sen. Case (R-SD), a member of the Watkins committee, said the whole censure row "could end very quickly" if McCarthy would retract what he said about the 1952 Gillette committee and, in particular, his "No-brains-no-guts" crack about one member of it. That member was Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ).

Case told reporters:

"If Sen. McCarthy indicated any regret he had uttered those words, it would be very easy for the Senate to accept them and then to table (knock out) that portion of the censure resolution."

And if that happened, Case said, the Senate might also "wash out" a proposed censure of McCarthy on the ground he abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when the general appeared before the McCarthy investigations subcommittee.

Case, spelling out what he had implied in a floor speech, told newsmen the Senate might get around a direct censure of McCarthy on this second count by simply disassociating itself from McCarthy's remarks to Zwicker.

McCarthy showed no inclination to back down on his charge that the Gillette committee acted illegally and improperly—but whether he would tone down his statement that Hendrickson was a "living miracle... without brains or guts" remained to be seen.

The Gillette committee, headed first by Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) and later by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), investigated McCarthy's affairs for nearly 18 months. It finally issued a report raising a number of questions about his finances. It said it didn't have the answers because McCarthy wouldn't cooperate.

McCarthy told reporters he likes Hendrickson personally and thinks Hendrickson is a friend of his. But as for withdrawing his remarks about the Gillette committee, he said: "I see nothing that would be done differently if I were doing it today."

Then on the Senate floor McCarthy tossed a new blast at the committee, charging it broke the law by having a "mail cover" put on him and three assistants during its 1952 investigation.

A "mail cover" is a Post Office check on return addresses and the like on mail delivered to a given person or address.

McCarthy said Watkins sub-

THE APPOINTMENT OF JUDGE HARLAN

The appointment of Judge John Marshall Harlan to the United States Supreme Court to some extent, at least, carries out the expressed desires of many people that the vacancy on the court existing since the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson be filled by the selection of an able jurist without too much regard for political considerations.

Although Harlan is a Republican, he has never been active in politics. His nomination by the President came as a surprise to many observers, most of whom agree that political reasons did not control the choice.

Harlan has been serving as a judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York since last March. He has had no other judicial experience. He has had, however, an outstanding career in the private practice of the law.

The new appointee to the Supreme Court, once a Rhodes scholar, was formerly counsel to the New York Crime Commission. He bears a name already etched in the records of the nation's highest court, his grandfather having served on the Supreme Court bench for 34 years.

We believe that Harlan's appointment should be confirmed by the Senate. While he is not a veteran judge, he does possess other qualifications of the highest type.

EVERY INCH A QUEEN

In her visit to America, the Queen Mother Elizabeth has shown again and again why the British royal family is held in such warm affection by the people of Britain and the Commonwealth.

Without ever losing her regal bearing, the Queen Mother manages always to radiate simple friendliness. She seems the walking embodiment of the solid family virtues people across the earth cherish.

Her gracious accommodation to thousands of curious New Yorkers offered remarkable example. Time after time, as she emerged from a building, she would walk with deliberate slowness, to give onlookers a real chance to see her. Endlessly she posed for pictures with a smile that never tired.

We Americans do not want royalty for ourselves. But when we see such a regal person as the Queen Mother, we can understand that, in Britain at least, the royal family is as much the symbol of treasured human values as the symbol of aloof government authority.

However, a mother doesn't have to raise that large a family to start getting something from the government. She gets an allowance equivalent to $6.30 a month for her first child. The figure gradually rises until the payment reaches a peak of $13.90 monthly for her fifth child, and any thereafter.

There are also small birth and death allowances, and a nonworking mother also gets an allowance from the government to stay home and raise her kids.

These family bonuses increase the birth rate in rural more than in industrial areas, however. The clear bracing air in rural zones is regarded by some authorities as even more important to the birth rate than government bounties.

Belgium's 8,725,000 people have three different national tongues—Flemish, French and German. Some 3,039,315 in 1950 spoke French only, 3,473,391 Dutch only, 49,033 German only.

It was also discovered that 334,406 inhabitants couldn't speak any of the three languages. It turned out most of them had a reasonable excuse—they were still under 2 years of age.

Belgium produces no romantic films, does go in heavily for sentimental home produced documentaries. But cinema fans here like American stars, and currently Jane Russell is ahead of Marilyn Monroe by a wide margin.

FUNNY BUSINESS By Hershberger

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (#)—The Democrats and Republicans may try to get along like brothers in the next two years—but there's been mention of harmony—but it would be too tough on the voters if they acted like twins.

How could the voters decide between them in the 1956 elections if there was nothing but harmony?

The two parties probably won't try to be closer than third cousins for political reasons, with 1956 in mind, and because of some differences in viewpoint although to many voters the differences may seem neither profound nor sharp.

The voters have shown in the past two elections they're having trouble making a choice.

In the 1952 elections the voters gave the Republicans control of Congress by a margin so thin that, if it was any thinner, the Democrats would have run the show. In 1954 they indicated Democratic control by an edge almost as fragile.

The overwhelming 1952 vote for President Eisenhower can be taken as a personal triumph for him. The amazingly narrow vote for Congress that year showed how the people felt about the two parties.

While it is possible the voters have been too nearsighted to recognize any great differences in the features and performance of the elephant and donkey, it may be that the differences were more apparent than real.

Once they're elected to Congress the Democrats and Republicans sometimes vote along strict party lines. More often than not at voting time on any given issue they break up into factions, with Democrats and Republicans making switches in bunches.

Since both parties have men who consider themselves conservative and others who consider themselves liberal, it is natural at voting time for the natural allies to vote alike.

But what occurs on the floors of House and Senate at voting time is not, of course, as that happens. The two parties can make a lot of political hay and headlines in the committee hearings, where most of congress' work is threshed out.

And since the party which has a majority controls the committees, it is in the best position for making, particularly in the field of investigations, by deciding what needed looking into and how.

A good example is the Senate's committee which keeps check on government operations and its Internal Congress, with its Republican majority. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is chairman of both committees.

But starting in January, with the Democrats taking over, Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on those committees, may handle those jobs. Then it would be McClellan, not McCarthy, who would direct what the committee is to investigate.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

Clapp Had to Go—Changed Mind—Vote!

Improve or Else—Labor Unity—Defense or Chaos

WASHINGTON (#)—NEA—The real reason why Gordon Clapp was not reappointed chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority came out during his testimony before Sen. William Langer's (R-N.D.) Judiciary subcommittee investigating the proposed Atomic Energy Commission contract with the Dixie-Votes group, to supply power to TVA.

Clapp's testimony pointed up his complete opposition to the Dixie-Votes deal. This was in January.

In late February, the Bureau of the Budget directed the AEC and TVA to make a joint study of the project. TVA data blocked the first proposal as disadvantageous to the government. On March 3, Gordon Clapp made a request to Bureau of the Budget for supplemental appropriations to increase TVA's generating capacity to meet AEC power demands.

March 18 President Eisenhower allowed Mr. Clapp's term as chairman of TVA to expire. He stuck the job for two months more, but the forces against him were too strong and he had to go out.

E. A. YATES, president of the Southern Co. and a partner with Edgar H. Dixon of Middle South Utilities, who now want to build a private power plant to sell electricity to Tennessee Valley authority, didn't think TVA would work when it was first proposed.

Testifying before the House Military Affairs Committee, considering the original TVA legislation in 1933, Mr. Yates declared there was no market for the power to be produced by TVA. He said that at that time there was a 66 per cent surplus of power in this area, and that end-users had concluded no further hydroelectric power could be produced.

At that time the Tennessee dam was the only dam in the Wilson dam valley.

There was not the slightest justification for building any hydroelectric plants in the area. Mr. Yates testified and anyway, no hydroelectric plant could compare with a steam plant.

HOW IMPORTANT it is to get out every single vote, and how the people who stay at home really swing the elections, is shown by the closeness of the New York governorship race.

Harrison won by a little over 10,000 votes but if only one vote had been shifted in each of New York's 10,436 election districts, Senator Lister would have been elected by the same majority Harrison had. Thus in a total of over five million ballots.

"If we're going to have unity, let's have complete unity," says Beck. His reason is that UMW is now competing with the Teamsters for members in many areas. Beck is trying to put together a two million member union, Lewis' Mine Workers claim 600,000 members.

THE REAL PROBLEM of U. S. civil defense against a possible atomic attack on this country was pointed up sharply for Washington officials by the two hurricanes.

Dear Editor: It is fitting that during Education Week we parents should pay tribute to the teachers in public, private, and parochial schools to whom we entrust a large part in the training of our children's minds and the formation of their characters.

It would be wise for us also, it seems to me, to call to mind each year at this time the role of the average citizen in making public school policy, for after all, it is we who by our interest or our apathy make that policy.

Keller, in his book "All God's Children," has listed 10 specific steps within the reach of every citizen which can help to strengthen our schools. I think they are food for thought for this week, and so I quote them here:

1. Acquaint yourself with problems of the schools in your locality. You cannot act intelligently unless you know the facts.

2. Do all in your power to assist teachers by:

a. Doing what you can to see that they are provided with adequate salaries which will assure them of the decent living you would expect if you were in their position.

b. Helping to make economic and social conditions as pleasant for every teacher.

c. Doing your bit to increase respect for teachers all the way from kindergarten to university.

3. Make yourself a committee of one to interest competent young persons with a Christian purpose in education.

4. Notify others when important educational matters are being considered. You can do this by a telephone call, by contacts at your office, in your shop, at luncheon, while doing your marketing, and so on.

5. Encourage good performance by public recognition of it. You can write to your paper expressing approval of a good job, or propose a resolution of one of your local organizations, meetings, commending those who are doing good work in education.

6. Show the courage of your convictions. Do whatever you can to bring about the proper recognition of God in your schools.

Very sincerely yours, Margaret D. Ferry.

2. Do all in your power to assist teachers by:

a. Doing what you can to see that they are provided with adequate salaries which will assure them of the decent living you would expect if you were in their position.

b. Helping to make economic and social conditions as pleasant for every teacher.

c. Doing your bit to increase respect for teachers all the way from kindergarten to university.

3. Make yourself a committee of one to interest competent young persons with a Christian purpose in education.

4. Notify others when important educational matters are being considered. You can do this by a telephone call, by contacts at your office, in your shop, at luncheon, while doing your marketing, and so on.

5. Encourage good performance by public recognition of it. You can write to your paper expressing approval of a good job, or propose a resolution of one of your local organizations, meetings, commending those who are doing good work in education.

6. Show the courage of your convictions. Do whatever you can to bring about the proper recognition of God in your schools.

Dear Editor: It is fitting that during Education Week we parents should pay tribute to the teachers in public, private, and parochial schools to whom we entrust a large part in the training of our children's minds and the formation of their characters.

It would be wise for us also, it seems to me, to call to mind each year at this time the role of the average citizen in making public school policy, for after all, it is we who by our interest or our apathy make that policy.

Keller, in his book "All God's Children," has listed 10 specific steps within the reach of every citizen which can help to strengthen our schools. I think they are food for thought for this week, and so I quote them here:

1. Acquaint yourself with problems of the schools in your locality. You cannot act intelligently unless you know the facts.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Bomke Hardware Co.

4-H Honors Will Be Made Saturday At Times Theater

On National 4-H Achievement Day, Saturday, November 13, the more than 62,000 4-H Club boys and girls will be given special recognition for a year's work well done.

Members of the state's 2,137 clubs will be honored in their own counties for their club activities, their efforts in project work and the records they keep of their accomplishments.

Work of the more than 5,000 adult and junior leaders who guide the activities of the clubs will also be given public recognition.

Home Adviser Jean Plumb reports a special program has been scheduled in Morgan County at the Times Theater on November 13. Everyone is invited to attend and see the county's outstanding 4-H Club members receive their honors.

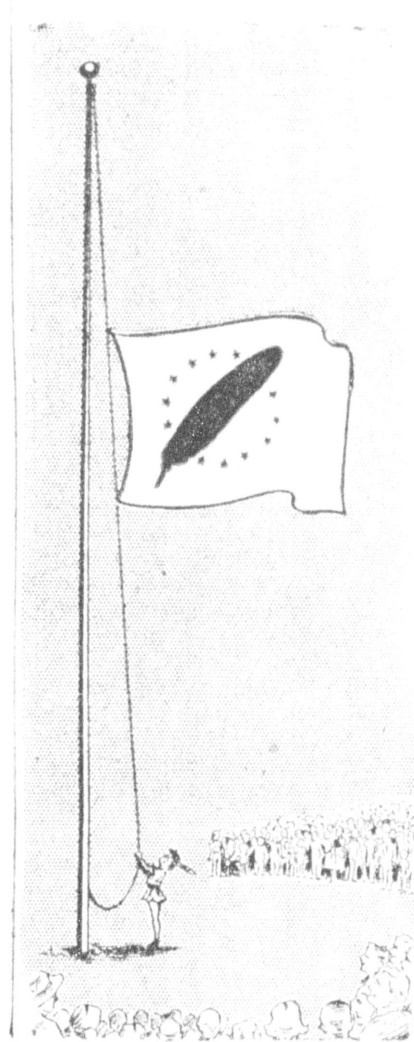

Project honor and outstanding members will be named from the county's 10 agricultural and 18 home economics clubs.

A review of the activities of the clubs, with special emphasis on improving the local programs, will also be a part of the program.

Also to be given special recognition during the day and the program will be the county's adult and junior club leaders. The county 4-H program could not be successful without their active interest, loyalty and hard work.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS OKAY PACT

PARIS (AP)—By a margin of more than 6 to 1, the French Socialist party today voted to support the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany. This was believed to assure ratification in the National Assembly, where the Socialists hold the biggest single bloc of votes.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Premier Malenkov's suggestion about greater use of old-fashioned diplomacy in East-West relations sounds more like a dinner-time courtesy to his ambassadorial guests than a real clue to Russian policy.

Old time diplomacy is the handling of problems through ambassadors. In recent years it has given way in large part to the issuance of statements by officials relying upon public forums such as the press, radio and the United Nations for their impact on other governments. In Moscow, particularly, Foreign Office officials seldom sit down and discuss policy with visiting representatives, even on the relatively rare occasions when formal notes are transmitted.

In effect, then, Malenkov seems to have been saying to the American and British ambassadors, that he was glad to have them and that they ought to get together more often.

The statement, of course, also falls within the line adopted by Russia some time ago, and now being intensified as the West moves toward a position of greater strength through the Western European Union.

Russia is trying to make it appear that she needs to spend her energies on internal development rather than military preparedness; that she would like to have a smaller army and assign more men to agriculture; that she is really interested in coexistence.

It is one of her best known tactics, to appear to be easing off when she can no longer press forward.

American diplomats have felt for years that this tactic is the most dangerous thing they face.

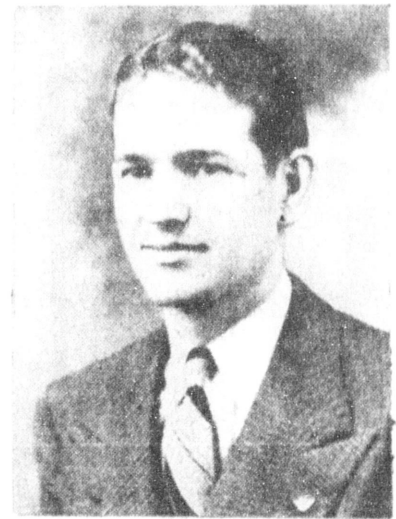

Europeans, on the other hand, so tired of war and grasping so hard at even the most ephemeral hopes of peace, often want to investigate every time the Russians hold out an apple on a stick. Americans and Europeans alike, however, do cling to the hope that when Europe's position of strength is once established, Russia will recognize the accomplished fact and be willing to negotiate realistically.

Russia is playing upon that with the idea that she is willing to negotiate realistically now, and so delay ratification of Western European Union.

The West has fallen for this before, and its leaders now are taking a toughened view. But it has its effects on people and parliaments, and Russia knows it.

Chairman

N. Arthur Anderson, associate professor of chemistry at Illinois College, has been appointed chairman of the southwestern area of the Junior Academy of Science. As chairman, he works along with other college professors and high school science teachers, as well as the student officers in planning the activities of the academy.

The Junior Academy of Science is an organization of high school and junior high school students interested in any one of the sciences. The Academy's chief activity is to sponsor the annual district and statewide science fairs where high school students exhibit their science projects.

The science fair for the southwestern district will be held on the Illinois College campus Saturday, April 23.

Miss Elmore Stoldt, instructor in Biology at Jacksonville High School, is state chairman, while Barbara Mink, senior at Jacksonville High School, is student president of the Academy. The vice president for the southwestern district is Joan Weber, a student at Edwardsville high school.

The Junior Academy of Science is sponsored by the senior academy of science, an organization of high school and college science teachers.

INDICATES RUSS H-TEST

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese scientist today said his studies of radioactive dust collected here indicated a nuclear explosion Oct. 29 or 30.

Kyodo News Agency said Dr. Yasuo Miyake did not say where the blast had occurred but that other Japanese scientists believed it "practically certain" it was another in a series of Soviet test explosions somewhere in Siberia.

Jersey Co. Tops Morgan's Blood Program Record

JERSEYVILLE — The Jersey County Chapter of the American Red Cross has received a citation in acknowledgement of the achievement of an outstanding Bloodmobile operation at Jerseyville on Oct. 18 and 19, and has been made a member of the Red Cross Club composed of "Quota Qualifying Chapters."

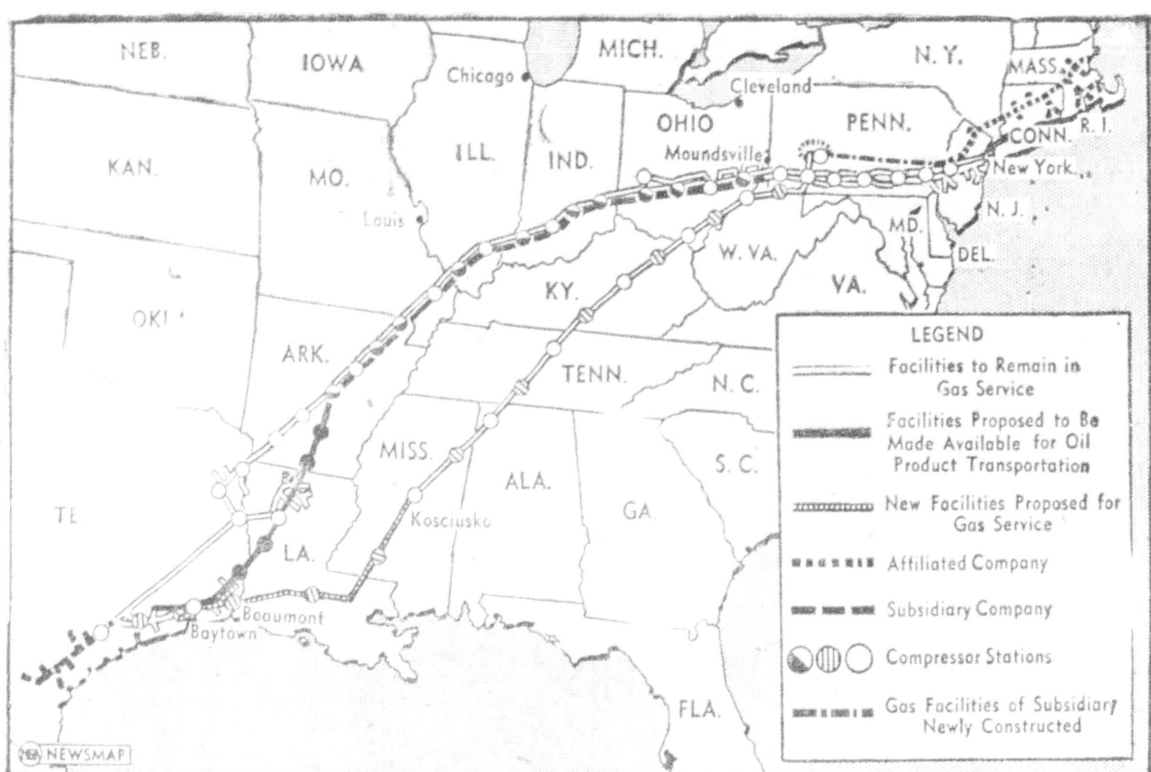

The recognition was received by Mrs. Rodney Jacoby, General Chairman of the Blood Donor's Program, with the request that the certificate be displayed publicly in order that the county might be acquainted with the honor received by the chapter.

In order to attain membership in the Red Cross Chapter must meet the requisites of 200 pints of blood per mobile unit or averaged 200 pints of blood per day for multiple days visit since July 1, 1952.

At the last visit of the Bloodmobile Unit, Nov. 18 and 19, there were 459 pints of blood collected. This was the best response ever given in all the years the county has been enrolled in the Blood Program. In preparing for the event, Mrs. Jacoby enlisted the services and help of many organizations and individuals and a recruitment drive was sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Herman Schafer as chairman.

BIG SWITCH FOR "LITTLE INCH"—The famous "Little Inch" natural gas pipeline may be an ace literally "in the hole" for Uncle Sam in case of war if an application filed with the Federal Power Commission is approved. It is from the Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation and seeks permission to reconvert part of the company's pipeline facilities to petroleum products transportation service. The Little Inch section would extend about 1168 miles, from near Baytown, Tex., to Moundville, W. Va. On conversion, the 20-inch diameter pipeline could transport up to 9,870,000 gallons of petroleum products daily. Substitute natural gas lines would be constructed to maintain the natural gas system's present delivery capacity. Little Inch was originally constructed during World War II to carry petroleum products.

Fire Department

The Fire-Flyer News, a monthly publication printed in Dayton, Ohio, by a fire fighting equipment company, had a feature article concerning the Waverly Volunteer Fire Department in its November issue.

The article was written due to the fact that the Waverly firemen during the past few months had purchased a total of 450 feet of fire hose from the firm. Waverly citizens will remember that several months ago the firemen used Tremont street to string hose before reloading the truck with new hose, which is when the pictures that appear in the magazine were taken.

Wanted—Man interested in a steady job and interested in selling shoes. With or without experience. Write Box 25 Journal Courier, giving references.

Persons in the magazine include one of the entire crew taken in front of the fire house, another of Ed Wiese and Bill McClain unpacking the new hose, and a shot of Ed Wiese and the late Carl Malam loading the hose in the fire truck.

A NEW NAME AND A GREATER REVERENCE

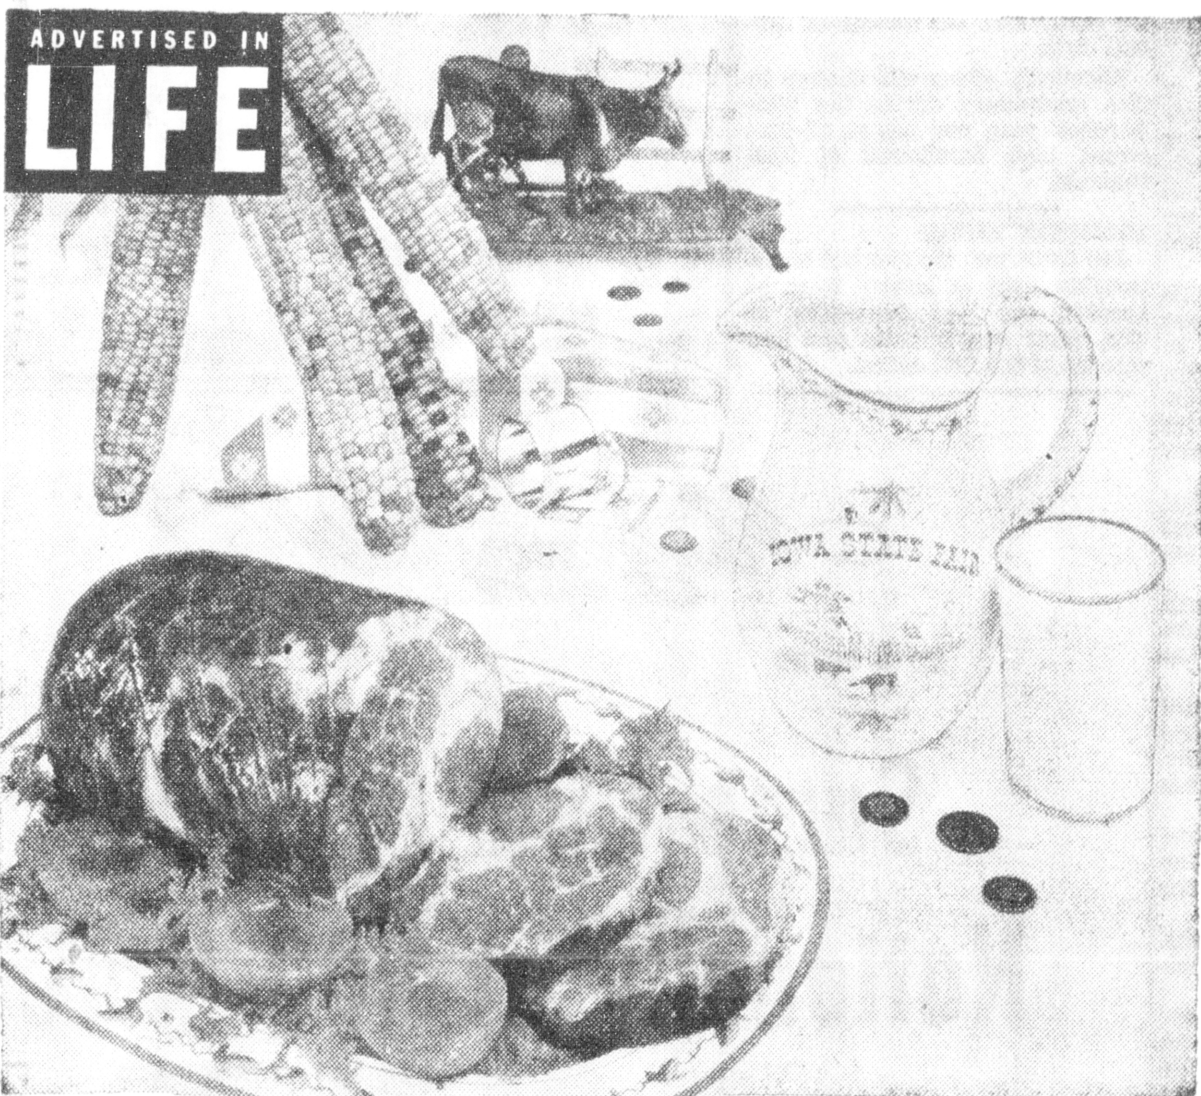

VETERANS DAY

TO THE MEN WHO FOUGHT . . .

Over the years, millions of Americans have gone to war. Some went when the country was new and poor. They marched and fought on hardtack and beans. Years later, others fought from the tail of a B-17 and slept in a clean bed every night. Either way they found that fighting is never fun . . . that when diplomacy fails and there's only recourse to arms, it's a dirty and inglorious business.

These United States are still free—they still provide the opportunity that is all a free man asks for—because in every generation, a man has been willing to put on a uniform and shoulder a gun. In the reverent spirit of Armistice Day, we honor the memory of ALL this nation's loyal sons who have so valiantly served their country, and offer our heartfelt prayer that those who have fought and those who have fallen, have not done so in vain.

This is a "Daintee" from the Land O' Corn . . .

A Daintee has that smoky-sweet goodness, that nut-brown taste that any ham lover will positively insist is the most scrumptious of all flavors. But the size? Rath Black Hawk Daintees weigh in at a mere 1 to 3 pounds. Just the right size for small families or folks who don't go for leftovers all week long.

Cut from the meaty shoulders of Rath's plump, corn-fed porkers, Daintees get the full Rath treatment: cured in sweet'n'savory juices . . .

smoked over aromatic hickory . . . boned and trimmed to get more rich, pinky lean. But that juiciness . . . that cut-it-with-a-fork tenderness is all their own!

Fix 'em with brown sugar and cloves, gingerale and apricots. Or boil 'em with cabbage and sauerkraut. But however you have 'em, they'll save you a pretty penny.

Which just goes to prove that real good things come in small packages!

OUR GROWING COMMUNITY

STANDS READY TO SUPPORT
OUR SAVIOUR'S HOSPITAL

Architect's conception of the hospital as it will appear when the new wing has been built and the old sections removed.

With an impressive record of service to our growing community for 58 years, Our Saviour's hospital plans for still greater service in the future. The hospital's modernization and new construction program calls for a minimum expenditure of $750,000. This amount is to be raised through voluntary gifts of businesses and of people in the area served by the institution.

Upon the completion of the program our growing community will be better equipped to restore health, to ease pain and to save life. This program indicates a progressive step of the area to fulfill the exacting requirements of a new medical era.

Former Ashland Pastor Injures Hand Severely

This statue of a Concord Minuteman won first prize in 1942 New England Hotel and Restaurant Show competition.

IF THERE is a prominent buffet reception in or near Providence, R. I., and the table features an outstanding work of tallow sculptural art, the creator usually is Angelo Nicholas Marchitelli, executive chef at the Hotel Sheraton-Baltimore. He likes to work with patriotic themes. His most popular was a replica of the Concord Minutemen, which won the 1942 grand prize of the Culinary Art Salon of the New England Hotel and Restaurant Show. Since then he won so many first prizes the show now does not give a first, just "major awards." He works by himself in his spare time. His workshop usually is the walk-in refrigerator which is cool enough to keep his tallow firm. The 55-year-old chef never had formal training. When he was 11, working at a private club in his native Rome, Italy, he was told to prepare something different. His row of soldiers drew so much admiration he kept right on.

And this tallow statue dedicated to pioneer women won a major award at 1954 show.

Crimsons End Season With 13-6 Victory Over Tigers

Bowl Bids, Conference Crowns Up For Grabs In Tomorrow's Games

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Given the right combination of results, about half the major college conference football championships and a number of bowl game participants could be decided Saturday.

But to thousands of football fans throughout the country, this is the weekend to gather on the campus, host a stein for dear old Siwash and exchange nostalgic reminiscences while they watch a younger generation of athletes better away at traditional rivals.

And in some cases those rivals are still going for championships in 1954.

Minnesota and Michigan are ready and waiting to step into the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl if unbeaten Ohio State should falter.

Unbeaten Arkansas is favored to wrap up the Southwest Conference title and the cotton bowl bid Saturday and Alabama, which has produced a dozen bowl teams in the past, still is in line for another postseason invitation.

Briefly, here's the championship situation as it applies to Saturday's games:

Ohio State, seeking to make Pasadena's Purdue its eighth straight victim and its sixth in the Western Conference, could clinch the title if both Michigan and Minnesota lose. Michigan plays Michigan State, an old and now respected rival in a game that is expected to draw 97,000 spectators. Another longtime rivalry is renewed when Minnesota plays Iowa, which has knocked off Wisconsin and Purdue in its last two starts.

Southern California and UCLA both are unbeaten in Pacific Coast Conference play. Since UCLA, idle this week, is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl, USC appears to have the assignment sewed up, regardless of Saturday's game against Washington.

Unbeaten Arkansas needs nothing more than a tie against runner-up Southern Methodist to clinch the Southwest Conference title, which automatically leads to the Cotton Bowl.

Notre Dame meets North Carolina in an inter-sectional tussle.

Other top games on the card include:

East—Columbia-Navy, Army-Penn., Yale-Princeton, Rutgers-Penn State.

Midwest—Wisconsin-Illinois, Indiana—Northwestern, Oklahoma-Missouri, Iowa State-Kansas State, Kansas-Oklahoma A&M, Pitt-Nebraska.

South—Duke-Wake Forest, Clemson-Maryland, Alabama-Ga. Tech, West Virginia-William and Mary, Florida-Tennessee, Georgia-Auburn.

Southwest—Rice-Texas A&M, Texas-Texas Christian.

Far West—Colorado-Utah, Oregon State-California, San Jose-Stanford, Marquette-College of Pacific

FOOTBALL IS A GAME OF INCHES

After yesterday's Crimsons-Tigers game, which the Crimsons won 13-6 in a thriller, it isn't too hard to realize the old boy who said, "football is a game of inches" was absolutely right.

The two pictures taken during the heat of the battle bear this fact with us. The above shot shows Tiger halfback Mehring (80) being nipped just in time by Crimson defensive man Fairfield. It wasn't how hard he hit him, it was a case of where he hit him. Others in the picture running up to get in the action are: Hill (59), Lewis (70) in dark jerseys and Thrash in white jersey.

The other picture shows Tiger end and captain Dick Thrash about to get his fingers on a Duncan pass only to have it knocked out of his hands by Crimson captain Max Roegge (66). Also grouped around the I.S.D. end is Billy Lewis (70) and Jack Fairfield (50). The ball was finally grabbed by A. G. Coates, hidden behind Thrash and Roegge, on the Jacks 32 yard line. This halted a Tiger drive.

White Hall Tops Roodhouse 25-13 In Annual Battle

White Hall—(Special) Coach Howard Eerline's White Hall Maroons scored two touchdowns in the first period and came back with a pair in the final frame to defeat visiting Roodhouse 25-13 in the annual holiday classic.

To get the scoring under way for the winners, Brogdon went around left end for 40-yards and the first TD of the afternoon McClure caught a pass in the end zone for the point after and the Maroons enjoyed a 7-0 lead.

Competition The Key To An Olympic Victory Over Russia: Official

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Competition and more competition" is one way of getting set for the powerful Russian threat in the Melbourne Olympic Games, said Dan Ferris Thursday.

"We hope to get the program rolling most summer and follow it up in '56, the year of the games," added the veteran official who saw the Russians in action in '52 and watched them sweep by Europe's best in Switzerland last summer.

"Our track programs usually wind up when the colleges get through. We can't afford to do this any more if we want to make any in kind of a decent showing in Melbourne. Our athletes must be in top shape for the games in November and December."

"The Russians are building up in every sport. They are better in most every event in track—and they were good enough before—except in the sprints. The other Iron Curtain countries are developing their stars too. We've got to dig in and work—and hard."

"The Russians won the world hockey, weight-lifting and gymnastics championships," Ferris continued. "They swept the European track and field championships. The Hungarians impressed in winning the European swimming championships."

Ferris said the United States hopes to send 450 men and women competitors to Melbourne compared to some 400 who made the trip to Helsinki.

As for the American effort in the Olympics, Ferris said, in an interview with The Associated Press:

"Many college presidents have told us they will find some means of permitting the collegians to compete in the Olympics although the games will be held during the school year," said Ferris. "Some of the collegians may have to sacrifice a semester in order to be in top condition."

"The armed services provided much help in '52 and we're counting heavily on them for '56. They should be able to see that the athletes in the services are trained in the right locale for their particular sports."

Jacks Score Twice In First Half; I.S.D. Strong At Finish

The Jacksonville Crimsons and I. S. D. Tigers ended their 1954 football season and the local football picture for this year yesterday afternoon on the deaf field when the Jacks defeated the Tigers 13-6 before a large crowd on a fine football day.

The crowd had much to cheer about before the afternoon ended as the two highly touted elevens put on one of the finest exhibitions of the year.

The Crimsons got the scoring under way at the beginning of the second period after the Tigers punted to them and the Jacks took over on their own 35 yard line. Runs by Ron Trier and Larry Scott gained three first downs and moved the ball to the Tiger 20. The Kraushaarmen tried two passes and a running play without gaining and it was 4th down and ten to go. Billy Lewis fired a beautiful pass to end Larry Knight who galloped into the end zone and the Crimsons had a 6-0 lead. Jim Woodward booted the extra point to raise the total to seven.

In the initial frame, the Tigers put on a drive of their own but a fumble which Larry Scott grabbed out of the air halted their rally.

Later in the second period the Jacks scored their second TD. This time it was the fine running of backs Scott, Dyer, Trier and Fairfield that moved the pigskin 80 yards on the ground before Kent Dawson entered the game and plunged over from the one yard line. The Crimsons had taken over on their own 20. Scott continued his line running as he carried the ball four times and picked up 28 yards on this march. Trier carried four times and Dyer picked up 18 yards. After Dawson went over Woodward's attempted conversion was not good.

The half ended after a Tiger rally was halted on a pass intercepted by Coates.

GRAINS HIGHER ON FIRM MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (P)—Grains pushed their way higher on the Board of Trade Thursday, several deliveries of wheat and oats setting new seasonal peaks.

Gains weren't spectacular but the market had a firm tone all day—except for soybeans, which underwent several nervous spells before coming ahead to finish strong at the close.

Wheat closed 1/4-1 1/2 higher, corn 1/2 to 1 cent higher, oats 1/2-3/4 higher, rye 3/4-2 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2-2 1/2 higher and lard 3 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Nurs Greece had purchased 2,600,000 bushels of hard wheat overnight was a sustaining influence in wheat. Traders also were interested in the announcement the United States had signed an agreement to sell surplus American farm products to Japan.

In the early trade it was corn which set the forward pace. This cereal responded to the Agriculture Department's estimate, issued after the close Wednesday, that this year's crop would total 2,938,713,000 bushels. This was down about 11 million bushels from the estimate a month ago.

Soybeans sold off at the start following the government's estimate this year's crop would total around 338 million bushels, up around 7 million bushels from the estimate a month earlier. However, this boost had been expected and beans ran into no heavy selling.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCHES GAIN ITALIAN RECOGNITION

ROME (P)—Italy's State Council ruled in effect Thursday that the Assemblies of God churches in Italy are entitled to juridical recognition. This would exempt them from taxes and enable their pastors to hold services freely.

The Council, the nation's highest magistracy, ordered the interior Ministry to act on a long-pending petition by these churches for such recognition.

This marked the greatest progress thus far by the Assemblies of God during a six-year struggle to gain a legal standing for its houses of worship in this predominantly Roman Catholic land.

The Assemblies of God, whose center is at Springfield, Mo., lists some 600 churches in Italy, most of them in the south.

FILL IT UP!

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—Diluting whiskey with water or substituting an inferior quality in a bottle constitutes no fraud against the government, Federal Judge M. M. Joyce ruled here.

He dismissed grand jury indictments that charged nine Minneapolis bar owners and employees with diluting the bottled whiskeys. If there was any fraud, Judge Joyce said, it was against the potential purchasers of the drinks.

13 State Alarm Discloses No Clue To Princeton Soph

PRINCETON, N. J. (P)—Police said today a 13-state missing persons alarm so far had failed to turn up any clues to the disappearance Nov. 1 of a Princeton University sophomore.

The missing youth is Harold W. Harding, 819 N. 25th St., East St. Louis, Ill.

Michael C. Kopliner, head proctor of the university, said the youth was in imminent danger of being expelled because he had cut 20 of his classes, while the limit is 15 cuts.

Kopliner said that "last summer he informed his mother that should he fail at school, he would not return home."

He also contended Watkins wouldn't let him show during the public hearings that the Gillette Committee once called as a prospective witness "a man whom it knew to be insane" to testify about "an alleged crap game" involving McCarthy.

It was this series of challenges that brought Watkins to his feet demanding to know who was on trial, anyway—himself or McCarthy?

Watkins, who suffers from a stomach disorder, had turned the floor over to Case, who told McCarthy:

1. He never knew about the mail cover, but did know a good deal of material was subpoenaed in the event it should be needed.

2. The Watkins committee never attempted to evaluate the work of the Gillette committee, but merely considered McCarthy's refusal to appear before it and the charges he made against the committee and against individual members.

Case told the Senate that it cannot tolerate such attacks as McCarthy made on Hendrickson, but he added that the situation "need not be as dark as this might seem."

Then, significantly, he told McCarthy: "The record is not yet closed."

Thursday's session got off to a stormy start when McCarthy blocked a move by Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) to put into the Congressional Record a broadcast script praising John Paton Davies, recently dismissed from his State Department career post on the ground that he had shown a lack of judgment, discretion and reliability.

McCarthy said the Eisenhower administration was to be congratulated for firing Davies, an old target of his, but declared the action came "thousands of lives too late and years too late." He said Davies was responsible "to some extent" for China going Communist.

Lehman, in a voice trembling with emotion, declared the Davies dismissal "and similar instances" have damaged foreign service morale. He noted Secretary of State Dulles in firing Davies made it clear McCarthy to the contrary—there was no question about the diplomat's loyalty.

Next, Sen. Chavez (D-NM), tangled with McCarthy. Voting in agreement with Lehman, Chavez declared McCarthy "thinks he's the only one who is honest," who would die for his country.

Chavez likewise took McCarthy to task for his charge earlier in the debate that the committee that recommended censure for him was acting as an "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist Party.

"I don't like it and I don't intend to have it," Chavez shouted.

Case finally got the floor to deliver the speech in which he suggested McCarthy back down on his remarks about Hendrickson.

Changed To Hold Down Profits

The commission said in a statement of its own that the profits ceiling was one of several modifications benefitting the government. It listed these others:

1. Provision that the contract, for delivery of up to 600,000 kilowatts of electricity, be extended for up to 20 years beyond the original 25-year base period. This would let the government get power for as long as 45 years, the estimated life of the plant.

2. Provision to allow the government to take over ownership of the plant and its site at any time within three years after the contract goes into effect.

3. Provision for a federal court to pick an arbitrator to rule on any disputes on contract terms.

4. Provision for advance commission approval of the hiring of any firm that would design or build the plant.

The signing of the contract opened the way for the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee to vote on a speed-up proposal, urged by Eisenhower, to advance the effective date of the contract and let construction get under way.

Under the law, the committee would have 30 days to study the contract at a time when both houses are in session before the contract took effect. But the joint committee can vote to waive this 30-day period if it sees fit.

Hunters Swear Tail Story Of Horses Is True

MISSOULA, Mont. (P)—A Missoula man, his son and a companion swear to this story.

S. F. Howard, his son, William, and another hunter were looking for pheasants in the lower Flathead Valley.

Young Howard entered a field and a large pinto horse ran up to him shouting. Howard withdrew and so did the horse.

He tried to enter the field a second time. The pinto came back—this time running in a partial circle past the hunter and over to another horse, a bay.

The three followed the pinto to the bay horse and found it entangled in a five-strand barbed wire fence. While they freed the wounded animal, the pinto stood by.

"And do you know," said Howard, "that once we got the bay horse free, the pinto paid no more attention to us."

Murder, Suicide Ends Marriage Of Youth, Girl Bride

SAVANNAH, Tenn. (P)—Pretty Betty Ann Brannon, 15-year-old bride of a year, Wednesday filed suit for a divorce from her 19-year-old husband R. C. Brannon.

As Betty and her mother sat talking Wednesday night, Brannon walked into their room. He was carrying a 22 rifle.

He tossed some papers into Betty's lap, papers saying she had filed for divorce charging cruel treatment.

"This is a mess of lies you told on me," he said.

"You don't scare me," Betty replied.

He fired one shot into Betty's head and fled.

Policemen found him about 200 yards from the house—a single shot through his head.

Sheriff Edgar Doran ruled it murder and suicide.

QUEEN MOTHER FINDS PERFECT PLACE FOR PRAYER

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (P)—From the belfry of historic Bruton Parish church, Virginia's famed Liberty Bell announced the hour of 11 a.m.

Inside the church, the woman with the sweet smile and the bright blue eyes, knelt in George Washington's pew, bowed her head and prayed.

There was no sound except that of the bell, which long ago had Declaration of Independence.

After two minutes, Queen Mother Elizabeth of England raised her head, stood and said to the Rev. Francis H. Craighill, rector of the church:

"This is a perfect atmosphere for my Armistice Day prayers."

Skeleton Found In Indiana: Clem Graver?

KENTLAND, Ind. (P)—Hunters found the browned bones of a human skeleton on a farm near Thayer Thursday, and state police said it might be the body of Clem Graver, missing Illinois State Representative.

The bones were sent to Indianapolis for laboratory analysis.

"We couldn't tell for sure whether they are of a man or a woman," Detective Sgt. Frank Wallace of Dunes Park State Police post said. "If they are of a man, I'm going to notify Chicago authorities as to possibility they could be those of the missing state legislator there."

Graver, then 33, was kidnapped from in front of his Chicago home in June 1933. Police believed he was killed by gangsters.

A pair of trousers found a few feet away indicated the skeleton was a man's. The pockets contained only matches.

Wallace said the skeleton apparently had lain more than a year on the Ira Miller farm a mile west of Thayer, near the Kankakee River. It was found by a party of hunters—Edward Hopper of Thayer and his sons, Robert and Arthur, both of Gary.

Peron Says Five Of Clergy Enemies Of Government

BUENOS AIRES Argentina (P)—President Juan D. Peron singled out three Argentine Roman Catholic bishops and two Italian priests Wednesday night as "enemies of the government" and warned he would take action against clergymen indulging in "illicit activities."

He also charged that the Catholic Action movement was attempting to undermine his Peronista party.

He emphasized, however, that he did not blame the church for what he termed a political situation. He said there was no problem of state against church in predominantly Catholic Argentina.

The President spoke at a closed meeting of government officials, Peronista leaders and chiefs of labor, economic and professional confederations. The speech was broadcast later by the national radio.

It followed a 10-day campaign in La Prensa, the organ of the Peronist Confederation of Labor, against "infiltration" of the labor movement by priests.

Church authorities had no immediate comment on the charges.

Peron said he would bring his complaint against the two Italians before the papal nuncio, the Vatican's envoy in Argentina.

He said church authorities had assured him that the church itself was not engaged in action against the government, and that Argentine prelates and other high dignitaries he had received recently had strongly condemned the activities of the three bishops.

Illinois Among Those Who Refused Red Probe Answers

WASHINGTON (P)—A federal prosecutor says he will seek indictments for contempt of Congress against eight persons who refused to answer questions before House Un-American Activities subcommittees.

William Hitz, assistant U. S. attorney, told a reporter he expects to present the contempt cases to a federal grand jury here "in the near future."

The eight appeared before the subcommittees at various times in 1933 and 1934. They include:

John T. Watkins, Rock Island, Ill., organizer for the CIO United Auto Workers. He swore April 29, 1934, he never was a card-carrying Communist but cooperated with the party from 1942 to 1947.

"To such a degree that some persons may have honestly believed that I was a member of the party," he testified about persons he said he knew still to be Communists but would not answer questions about persons who he said he believed "have long since removed themselves from the Communist movement."

ARREST MAY HAVE SAVED TWO LIVES

CHICAGO (P)—A traffic cop may have saved two lives by nabbing a speeding motorist Thursday.

Policeman Frank Schneider pursued John Vaglica, 28, in a motor-cycle-auto race and finally ran him down on foot after Vaglica abandoned his car.

The officer said he asked Vaglica where he was going in such a rush and got this reply:

"I was hurrying home to shoot my wife and kill myself."

Schneider said the man had thrown away a loaded 22 caliber pistol in the foot race down an alley.

Vaglica, who Schneider said was driving 40 miles an hour in a 25 mph zone, explained he had been having "in-law trouble." He was held for investigation.

CAMP GORDON COMMANDANT RELIEVED OF POST

AUGUSTA, Ga. (P)—Col. James O. Wade, commandant of Camp Gordon replacement training center, has been relieved of his post for "failure to take prompt and appropriate action" in a recent incident involving alleged "mistreatment" of trainees.

Camp Gordon authorities Thursday said Wade was relieved Thursday for failure to act when charged with mistreatment were made against Lt. Charles C. Anderson, 24, by nine trainees.

Anderson, a combat veteran, now is awaiting trial by a general court-martial. He allegedly ordered a private strung up by the feet and suspended from a tree trunk.

Schools Are Good As Citizens Make Them, Says Board President

By T. C. RAMMELKAMP
President of School District 117

"Working together for good schools" means the active cooperation of the entire community of Jacksonville for our school system. We are fortunate in Illinois that the law places the control and management of schools in the hands of local citizens. We have no one to blame but ourselves if our schools are sub-standard or are not teaching the children properly.

Large Crowd At Sears Customers' Preview Showing

A capacity crowd attended the semi-annual special customers' night preview at Sears, Roebuck and Co. store on the North Side of the Square Wednesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Music was furnished on the main floor of the store by Lloyd Bieber at the Hammond organ. The store was attractively decorated with fall foliage and coffee and doughnuts were served to those visiting Sears' Farm Store.

Registration was open to all during the evening at the conclusion of which the following awards were made: $49.95 deluxe bicycle to Les-chie Clayton of Franklin; occasional chair valued at $29.95 to Charles T. Holbrook of Peoria; $12.95 blanket to Mrs. Rosa Carey, 735 East College avenue; $16.95 six quart pressure cooker to Mrs. Laura Thompson at 403 West Greenwood; a $9.98 chenille bedspread, recipient's choice, to Mrs. C. K. Woods, 419 North Laurel Drive and a set of three loop pile throw rugs valued at $10 dollars went to John Thorn-dike of Chapin route two. The drawing was done by Jimmie Rob-son of 924 Edgchill road who re-ceived a football.

There are currently several serious problems which the board of education, administrative staff, and teachers are facing, and about which the community should be in-formed.

Almost all of these problems stem directly from increasing enrollment in the public schools. First there is the teacher shortage. As our school population increases, we must se-cure additional teachers for our staff. In some communities in Illinois they have been unable to obtain qualified teachers. This has meant either crowding the class-room or hiring persons not qual-ified to teach. To date in Jack-sonville, we have been able to obtain competent personnel. We are for-tunate to have two colleges, Illinois and MacMurray in the city who are training students for the teaching profession. The citizens of Jack-sonville should encourage young men and women to enter this pro-fession and should encourage col-lege students, who are interested in teaching, to investigate the poss-ibilities of employment in Jack-sonville. The salaries paid teachers in our school district are above aver-age for districts of comparable size in the state. However our salary scale is lower than in those school districts in larger urban areas. In 1954 approximately 60 per cent of school expenditures were devoted to salaries for teachers. We must face the fact that to hire new teachers and retain our present staff adequate salaries must be paid. However, salary is not the only con-sideration. Many persons, includ-ing teachers, decide to reside in Jack-sonville because of untangible fac-tors such as, lower cost of living than in other areas, recreational facilities, and availability of cul-tural advantages.

By working together to interest teachers in coming to Jacksonville, the community can materially as-sist in solving the teacher short-age, which sooner or later will be faced in our local school system.

Another serious problem is the providing of an adequate number of school rooms for the pupils. In 1948 the South Jacksonville school district built a new grade school. In 1951 material additions to our physical plant were voted by the people. Lincoln elementary school and a new gym were constructed, together with substantial additions to Jefferson and Franklin schools.

In 1953 Murrayville built sub-stantial improvements to their building. Despite these expenditures made since 1948, the district has not solved its housing problem. The South Jacksonville school built only six years ago is already crowded. The hundreds of new homes built in that area since the war has brought additional children into the school, far exceeding the expectations of school authorities when the building was planned.

Our Junior high school, con-structed in 1911 today is inadequate. Designed for an enrollment of 250 it now has over 400 pupils. Ex-panded programs in our high school in industrial arts, shop work, building and trades and music has meant that private property had to be leased to house them. Steps must be taken immediately to solve these problems.

The board of education has asked a group of citizens to study these building problems and make recom-mendations. This committee is meeting now. Working together with the board and the adminis-trative staff future building needs will be ascertained by them and recommendations will be presented to the community. Only by working together can we provide adequate school rooms for all of the children of our community.

Finally the problem of what we teach is one which concerns the entire community. Currently this is a national problem and educators are constantly re-examining the school program. The Saturday Re-view of Literature, Ladies Home Journal, Life and the Saturday Eve-ning Post have all published infor-mative articles on this subject. If the citizens of Jacksonville are not sat-isfied with the curriculum, they should meet with the staff and board and air their views. The Parent Teacher Association pro-vides programs each year which in-form the parents what is being taught and the objectives sought by the schools.

Good schools in Jacksonville have been our history and good schools will continue as long as the com-munity works together to achieve this goal.

Veteran Printer Recalls First Job With Journal

Samuel N. Stevens of Keokuk, Iowa, who got his first job as a printer's apprentice with the Jack-sonville Journal in 1902, was a vis-itor Thursday at the Journal Courier newspaper plant. His subsequent career has borne out the traditional saying that printer's ink is con-tagious, because Mr. Stevens has been engaged in the printing business continuously since that time.

Although he has worked for news-papers and conducted his own job printing shop for more than 50 years, the veteran printer is still looking forward. He is en route to California where he expects to con-tinue in the printing industry.

Mr. Stevens recalled that "Arkie" Mayer was foreman of the Journal composing room. He spoke intimately of the late W. L. Fay, W. D. Doy-ing, and other men connected with the printing industry here in former years.

After working for The Journal, Mr. Stevens was employed by the Roach Press and Henderson & De-Pew.

He is the son of Isaiah W. Stevens a Civil War veteran. The elder Stevens died when his son was eleven years old, and the young-ster went to work in the newspaper composing room as soon as he cleared the eighth grade.

Mr. Stevens has several nieces and nephews in Jacksonville and Lynnville.

Searcy Warns Of Enslavement By Communism

Earle Benjamin Searcy, clerk of the Illinois Supreme court, paid tribute to the millions of American veterans who have suffered death and injury that American freedom may live, in an address at the Veterans Day meeting of the Kiwanis club Wednesday at the Dunlap hotel. Searcy is a World War I veteran, and author of a book relating his experiences in France.

The guest speaker declared: "Self-preservation is a greater is-sue today than ever in our history. Communism has closed in upon a third of the world's population. At the present rate of their expansion, it won't be long until they have half the people enslaved. The Amer-ican republic is its ultimate goal. Yet, we witness the spectacle of persecution of some of those who would expose and destroy our only enemy. What manner of patriotism is this?"

Lloyd Graunke, club president, was in charge, and arrangements for the program were made jointly by George Vasconcellos and Frank A. Robinson. The latter presented Searcy. Veterans of the two World wars and of Korea were present to help observe the day.

A guest of honor was Lewellyn Fay, of Clinton, Ia., district gov-ernor of Kiwanis, who spoke briefly.

Army Vet Eulogizes Comrades, Warns Of "Red Tide On Shores"

Jacksonville solemnly observed Veterans Day, former Armistice Day, with an army veteran telling an attentive audience in Central Park that the obligation is upon all Ameri-cans "to be constantly aware of the Red tide washing on our shores, and to be vigilant lest it rise upon us in a moment of apathy."

The speaker was Roy Warner, a veteran of World War II, who eulogized the service of veterans dead and living.

Mr. Warner is a salesman for the Van Camp Hardware Co. of Indian-apolis, who stepped into the role of Veterans Day speaker at short notice. His address was applauded vigorously.

Hundreds March In Parade
The exercises in Central Park fol-lowed a patriotic parade in which hundreds of persons marched and rode in cars, in tribute to the na-tion's service men. The day was bright and mild, considerably warmer than the first Armistice Day on Nov. 11, 1918, when Jack-sonville and every town in the land went wild with joy.

Jacksonville Uost 1379, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was in direct charge of the Veterans Day observ-ance, cooperating with the Amer-ican Legion and Amvets. Colors of all three organizations and their Auxiliaries were carried in the pa-rade at 11 a.m.

The Jacksonville high school band marched near the head of the parade and played "The Star Spangled Banner" at the beginning of the program in the park.

Numerous floats and special dis-plays appeared in the parade, all with the purpose to honor veterans both living and dead.

Ceremonies In Park
Charles Thady, commander of the V.F.W. Post, presided as mas-ter-of-ceremonies at the monument in the park. He introduced Robert Hoffman, representing the Amvets; Commander Edward Brennan of the American Legion post, who also is Third Division commander, and Joseph Buckner, representing Moss-Walton Post, American Legion.

Prayer was offered by Earl Wallis, chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post.

A firing squad and the sounding of taps lent an impressiveness to the ceremonies.

Hoffman's Veterans Day address to the audience in the park fol-lows: "We are here today, gathered to-gether to honor both the living and the dead of three great wars. We have come to pay our humble homage to the hordes of valiant men who gave their all that America would live; that America would stand strong and free against the tides of tyranny and oppression."

"We have come together here that we might honor, not alone our heroic dead but all those living vet-erans who served their nation in it's hours of peril.

"After the first world war this day in November was set aside as armistice day to commemorate the armistice of that war and pay tribute to the dead and living serv-ice men of that war; to them and their forefathers who had fought to win and save that heritage which we enjoy today. Our country has, twice since, been to war, two bloody wars to preserve that same precious heritage which we take for granted today.

Proclaimed Veterans Day
"From now on, November 11th will be, officially, veterans day by proclamation of the President. And rightly so for after all it really isn't the armistice which we come to honor but the men who won that armistice."

"Let us stop and think of all those thousands upon thousands of valiant dead in their graves; graves at the four corners of the earth and at the bottoms of the seven seas. Think of those who have made the supreme sacrifice. Let us and the coming generations hold them close in our hearts. For it is only in our memory, our faith and in history that they will be rewarded.

"Let us think also of the living servicemen. There are millions of them living today. They are about us in all walks of life, serving their communities and their country in peacetime just as faithfully as they did in time of war. There are thousands of them in the hospitals today, maimed and crippled beyond recognition. Many many more bear the horrid scars of war upon their minds and hearts. Think if you will of all the sweat and blood and tears they have shed, shed that you and I might stand here today, free men instead of slaves.

"Blood, Tears, And Sweat"
"Think too of the heartbreak, sac-rifice and sorrow of the mothers, fathers, wives and families of all those men who have gone off to war. Yes, blood and tears and sweat and sacrifice is the stuff that democ-racy is made of. Who knows when and where America will have to stand and fight another day? For tyranny is still rampant upon the earth.

"We have come today to pay tri-bute to the living and dead of our country's veterans. I feel as though we have come for another reason. We have come to reassure them that their services and their sac-rifices were not in vain. To reassure them that we realize the obligations which our way of life imposes upon us, and let them know that we are ready and willing to assume the responsibility of those obligations.

Japan Calls Shooting Of U.S. Plane A 'Provocative Act'

TOKYO, Wednesday (AP)—Japan Wednesday called the shooting down of a U.S. RB29 photo plane Sunday by Russian MIGs a "provocative act" which it said "constitutes violation of Japanese air."

"We urge the Soviet government to take necessary measures to prevent recurrence of such provocative actions," a Foreign Office announcement said.

The statement said the Japanese government was "seriously concerned."

The United States has protested the incident. One American was lost but 10 crewmen parachuted to safety in the vicinity of Nemuro on northeastern Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island.

In the announcement, Japan also claimed sovereignty over the Habomais, a chain of six small islands now occupied by Soviet troops.

It was the first time since the war that Japan officially claimed the Habomais.

The statement will not be delivered to the Soviet Union, since Japan has no diplomatic ties with Russia.

The pilot of the plane told news-men here he was never "closer than 15 miles to Russian-held waters" during the flight.

Russia has claimed the RB29 shot first and was over Shikotan Island, one of the Habomai group held by the Soviets since the end of World War II.

The crew insisted they had not fired at the MIGs.

The plane crashed 10 miles inland from Nemuro.

The Foreign Office said the Russian fighters "reportedly fired on the plane over an area near Nemuro."

Meat Prices Will Be Shade Higher This Week End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The missus is likely to find prices of most meats a shade higher this week.

Sirloin steaks and rib roasts of beef are up a few cents a pound in major cities; also slightly higher are poultry, lamb and veal.

Pork is probably the outstanding buy. Several nationwide food chains are featuring pork roast or pork chops as weekend specials.

Also tagged for thrifty buying are smoked picnic hams, frying chickens and fowl. Poultry producers continue to grumble about a market glut.

Egg prices are falling again. Some brands of vacuum-packed coffee are down a nickel a pound in selected cities. Prices of frozen orange juice—already off substantially from a year ago—are expected to go lower still.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are slightly less abundant than they were earlier this fall but there's still a big assortment to choose from.

Listed by market specialists as "outstanding buys" on vegetable counters are such staples as cabbage, turnips, potatoes and winter squash.

Classed as "good" buys are sweet potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, egg plant and lettuce, while beans, celery, cauliflower, carrots and peppers are tagged as moderately priced.

Stern: U.S. Soldiers In Europe Swindled Of $8 Million Year

CINCINNATI (AP)—American soldiers and their families in Europe are swindled out of eight million dollars a year, writer Mike Stern told a congressional committee Tuesday.

They are cheated, he said, in post exchanges and in purchase of whisky and life insurance.

He testified before an open hearing of the House Armed Services subcommittee on Defense Activities with Rep. Hess (R-Ohio) presiding.

Stern said a group of 14 life insurance companies, 11 of them from Texas, had a stranglehold on the sale of policies to GIs and their families overseas.

"Texas, which places a premium on superlatives, has the worst insurance laws in the nation," said the European correspondent for Argosy magazine. "In the last 16 months, 10 Texas companies have gone broke and others are tottering. Ninety per cent of all insurance sold to GIs in Europe—and this amounts to 50 million dollars—is sold by Texas insurance companies."

He said the European Assn. of Life Underwriters dictates policies and it in turn was run by Walter O'Haire, of Pittston, Pa.

Stern said some of the Texas companies were capitalized on as little as $25,000 yet wrote policies totaling 10 million dollars.

Stuart Reichstein of San Antonio, Tex., testified he was a licensed salesman for two Texas companies. But when he shifted to the Great Western Life Insurance Co. of Washington State and declined to join the underwriters association, he was denied a license, he said.

Stern said the insurance companies are "permitted by Army practices, not regulations, to sell insurance to soldiers."

He named as the 14 companies doing business in Europe as:

The American Investors Life Insurance Co., of Dallas; American Savings Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth; American Standard Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth; American United Service Insurance Co. of Houston; Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; Gibraltar Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; Great Northwest Life Insurance Co. of Spokane, Wash.; Great Southwest Life Insurance Co., of Phoenix, Ariz.; International Fidelity Insurance Co. of Dallas; Life Insurance Society of Birmingham; Mid-Continent Insurance Co. of Fort Worth; National Educators Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth; Pioneer Life Insurance Co. of Houston, and Service Life Insurance Co. of Fort Worth.

These are the only companies licensed to do business in Germany, Stern said.

Christian Church Of Roodhouse Leads Contest

ROODHOUSE—November 14 of the "Go to Church" program will be "Sunday School Sunday." Emphasis will be on getting as many people as possible to go to Sunday school and then stay for church. Competition between the churches, based on percentage of increase of attendance, will include both Sunday school and church. Church attendance on Nov. 7 at the Baptist church was 126, at the Christian church 96, and the Methodist church 82. These figures will be used as a base for figuring percentage of increase for the remainder of the month.

Competition started last Sunday on Sunday school attendance. The Christian church was the winner in a very close contest.

A weekly treat is being given to the room as school having the greatest percentage of the students attending Sunday school or church. The winner for this week was Miss Catherine James' second grade, Jefferson school, with a total of 83%.

Members and guests of the Jacksonville Lions Club were told Wednesday evening in their meeting at the Dunlap Hotel by Rev. William E. Skadden of Springfield, that mental health and the research into the causes, prevention and cures of mental illnesses probably is of greater importance to the average individual than all of the futile fears regarding international tensions and grave concern about the H-Bomb. The meeting was presided over by the president of the Lions Club, Earl E. Grojean. Special guests included Senator George E. Drach of Springfield, State Representative Hugh Green of Jacksonville, and Leonard E. Bolt, executive assistant to the director of Public Welfare of Springfield. The speaker was introduced by E. Wayne Turley of Jacksonville. "Today, I subscribe to the philosophy," said Skadden, "expressed by Benjamin Franklin, chairman of the Board U. S. Steel Co. when speaking to a Knox College commencement audience. He expressed the idea that ever since the invention of gunpowder, nearly seven centuries ago, man has been engaged in a prodigious and thoroughly unscrupulous effort to destroy himself. But that even now he is not big enough, smart enough or almighty enough to do so despite the possibilities of the H-Bomb. "Can't Exterminate Bugs "It is a cold scientific fact — that mankind has studied insect life on the earth for centuries; has now classified nearly 7,000,000 different kinds. Each and every summer man has come up with a new and more deadly insecticide to destroy them. Up to the present hour they have failed to exterminate one single species. If we are so puny that we cannot prevail against the lowly mosquito, it is quite possible that our powers of destruction have been greatly exaggerated by our pessimistic age and that man's powers of survival have been correspondingly underestimated. It seems very possible that the earth may live out its destiny as planned by the Architect of the Universe." Skadden pointed out, "that none of the now extinct civilizations have been atomized by an atomic bomb. But, many of my friends under the tensions of life and pressure of modern society have been crippled by mental illness. Evidence is that in war or peace, more and more people will continue to become mental patients unless we can generate some real public interest and support for basic research into the causes of mental illness. Research Imperative "There is an old test for imbecility that public interest would yet fail to pass. The test was to put a basin under a running faucet, the patient was given a cup to dip the basin dry. If he failed to turn off the faucet before starting to dip, he was adjudged an imbecile. Research is the only method open to modern civilization to shut off the ever-increasing stream of new patients, one new patient every 40 minutes into Illinois mental hospitals. There are 650,000 patients in the mental hospitals of the nation, as many as in all other hospitals combined. Only public interest and support will make the necessary research possible. "It has been of great interest to me to note that Dr. Otto L. Bettag, director of the Department of Public Welfare, has taken a strong position on the need for research in the field of mental illness, in an address entitled, 'Trend Studies—Mental Health Services in Illinois.' It is encouraging to note that the head of our welfare department is following the advice of the ancient Chinese proverb: 'It is better to light a candle, than to curse the darkness.'"

How Good Are Our Schools?

By E. H. GARLICH
Morgan County Farm Adviser

Some folks say, "They're no good at all. They don't teach the children the way we were taught."

Others say, "They are doing a remarkable job. My children know a lot more than I did at their age."

I'm of the opinion that both of these statements are right and just because I was taught a certain way is no assurance that that way was the best way at that time and it might be even worse today. And, of course, youngsters today are exposed to many more different sources of learning than were those of a generation ago.

There are a number of studies which have been made to compare the youngsters of today with those of a generation or more ago. In most instances today's kids show up pretty well.

For example: In Indiana a 1919 test given to over 5,000 seniors that year resulted in the boys scoring 139 and the girls 136 out of a possible 190 points. (I don't know why they didn't have it 200. It would have made it easier for you and me to figure the percentage.) In 1941 the same test given to High School seniors produced scores of 153 for the boys and 151 for the girls.

Here's another: In 1952 57 fourth graders in Evanston, Illinois took reading vocabulary, arithmetic, and spelling tests. When their scores were compared with 57 fourth graders in 1932 they showed from six to eight months' advancement over the 23 pupils in every subject except spelling.

People in the educational field, too, point out that present day students learn lots of things in addition to the three "R's" which were so important years ago. Among these newer skills are the ability to speak before groups and to participate in committee work.

Most of the studies of this subject seem to bear out the contention that our schools are doing a pretty good job.

NESCO SCHOLARSHIP TO HARRELL

The Nesco Scholarship for 1954-55 at Illinois College has been awarded to Edward Harrell, sophomore student, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrell, 1004 Routt street. E. C. Shultz, left, vice-president of Nesco, is shown making the award to Harrell. To the right is Dean Ernest G. Hildner of the college.

The scholarship was established last year by the Foundation of Nesco, Incorporated. The firm is one of the city's largest industries.

Harrell is a 1953 graduate of Jacksonville High School. He is majoring in chemical engineering under the five-year program which leads to two degrees: one in liberal arts and one in engineering.

Remarkable New Dairy Product!

Topic Whips Like Cream

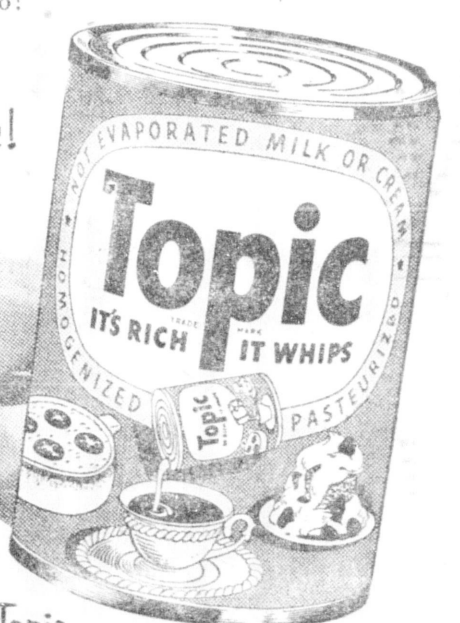

yet costs less than 1/2 as much as milk!

WHIPS AT ROOM TEMPERATURE! Even with a hand beater, Topic whips quickly and easily—actually faster than whipping cream. And whipping chilled Topic is speedier yet!

SETS NEW STANDARDS FOR PRODUCTS OF ITS KIND! Topic is rich, whole milk from nearby selected dairy herds. Only the butter fats are removed. Pure vegetable oils, plus Vitamins A and D, are added to the natural milk minerals, proteins and calcium. It is then homogenized and pasteurized, just the way milk is.

LOOKS AND TASTES LIKE CREAM! Topic is the vitamin-enriched Filled Milk developed by dairy scientists to do most everything milk or cream can do. Use Topic to "cream" your coffee and enrich your cooking—it's the modern way to nourish your family, and reduce your milk bill, too!

All this from one can of Topic!

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two young boys rushed breathlessly into police headquarters with an ominous report.

The men explained that they were looking for gold. One of them had seen the exact location of buried treasure in a dream. At last report, the treasure hunters had given up the search.

YES, THAT'S GOLD
WICKENBURG, Ariz. (AP)—The annual Wickenburg Gold Rush days, a feature of the winter tourist season in this dude ranch center, will be held Jan. 28-30. Participants can for real gold. Finders are keepers. Very small amounts can be recovered from sands near the city.

"I'll lend it to you," As she protested he added quickly, "No, don't be silly. What else can you do? We'll be here in the morning and I'll come around to see if we can think of anything."

As she was still hesitant, he explained about Daggett and the trailer. For some reason he did not mention Rupert Landusky.

"Well," she said reluctantly, with a note of desperation in her voice, "if you are sure it is all right, 'only-taking money from a stranger—"

"You can pay it back." To make this more emphatic Greg added, "With interest."

"Then—thank you very much." He found the car and drove to the hotel. "Good night," he said. She disappeared into the lobby with a wave of her hand.

HE slept late the next morning and awakened to remember that something had to be done about Hannah and he was no closer to knowing what to do than he had been the night before. Under Rupert's sardonic eyes it proved to be more awkward than he had anticipated to consult Daggett. Not that the girl interested him in the least but somehow Rupert made him self-conscious.

"I promised to see her this morning," he concluded. "Anyhow, I'll have to go because she can't pay her hotel bill. I'll try to persuade her to go home and lend her the fare. I am willing to take a chance on the girl. I am sure she is honest."

"Oh, she is honest," Rupert assured him. "No woman would say she had been jilted if she could think of any other story. She would rather be accused of murder than of falling as a woman."

"See her, of course," Daggett said, "but let me take care of the money involved. When I die what I have goes to the most rapacious bunch of vultures any man ever had for relatives. But if that girl has any spunk she won't go home."

"What else can she do?" Greg protested.

Daggett considered. "Why don't you bring her out to the trailer where we can talk it over?" He hesitated. "That is," he added with a touch of diffidence, "if you think she won't mind coming."

By that Greg knew he meant: If she won't mind how I look. The knowledge spurred him into saying, "She would enjoy it."

Being committed, he cursed himself for a fool. For 26 years he had done what was expected of him, he had stood for law and order, he had been guiltless of any impulsive action. And here he was, getting into fights, aiding and abetting an illegal immigrant, protecting strange females.

All the way into town he suppressed an uneasy suspicion that Daggett had maneuvered him adroitly into agreeing to bring the girl to the trailer.

WHEN he reached the hotel, Hannah was waiting on a chair in the lobby, erect and stiff, hands folded on her lap, eyes straight ahead. The color flooded her face as she caught sight of him.

"You thought I wasn't coming back," he accused her, and slipped his billfold into her hand. "You run pay for your room."

He watched her come back to him across the lobby, carrying two heavy suitcases. He observed that she had a figure for Greek sculpture, too ample for contemporary fashion, too delicate for a Rubens.

He lifted the suitcases out of her hands. "I am going to take you to the trailer so you can talk to Mr. Daggett. He is kind and wise. Perhaps he'll be able to help you, to come up with a good suggestion. Only—the man is paralyzed. His face is badly twisted and when you first meet him it may be a shock if you are not prepared. But don't let him see that you are bothered or I'll bring your pretty neck."
